

Figure 12. CoastWatch Advisory for November, 1998. In this image, coastal ocean mean sea surface temperatures (°F) are shown as the large numbers. Sea surface temperature anomalies are shown as contoured and color-coded values. Upwelling along the central and Southern California coast was observed to be slightly above normal at this time.