

Dear Palomar Students,

I am hopeful that you're beginning to settle into the second half of the Spring semester. Moving from face-to-face instruction to fully remote has been no small undertaking by everyone involved – you included. We really appreciate your patience as we continue through this unprecedented time.

Can you believe that summer is on its way? Registration for the Summer 2020 session begins on April 27. Because we continue to live in a continuously changing situation with respect to COVID-19, we will still be in remote instruction mode through Summer 2020.

In some cases, you will find classes offered remotely but still on a schedule with specific meeting days and times. In other cases, the course will be completely online with little to no live interaction.

We will continue to monitor what impact COVID-19 may have on the Fall 2020 semester, but for now, I'm hoping that you get more and more comfortable with your spring instructional changes and you will join us for Summer 2020.

Thank you,

Shayla D. Sivert
