Process for Committee
Appointments for Summer 2015:

Senate members discussed their summer availability and noted the need for an outline of when the hiring committees will meet over the summer, as well as which positions will be vacant and need to be filled. It is hoped that the formation of those committees will occur as soon as possible, and it would be preferable to fill faculty vacancies on hiring committees by holding just one additional Special Meeting of the Faculty Senate rather than several. Senators are not compensated for this additional work they do in the summer. Senators discussed the evidence of administration and HR taking advantage of the fact that faculty who are committed and dedicated to their jobs are often willing to work off contract to ensure necessary faculty representation on committees. While this summer offers an atypical amount of work for faculty to do off contract due to the unusually high number of retirements, it is still worth noting that faculty should not be expected to work off contract and should be compensated accordingly.

Greg Larson indicated that he would contact Senate members to check their availability to schedule another Special Senate meeting within the next few weeks.
