Palomar College – Institutional Review and Planning Instructional Programs

Purpose of Institutional Review and Planning:

The institution assesses progress toward achieving stated goals and makes decisions regarding the improvement of institutional effectiveness in an on-going and systematic cycle of evaluation, integrated planning, resource allocation, implementation, and re-evaluation. Evaluation is based on analyses of both quantitative and qualitative data (ACCJC/WASC, Standard I, B.3.)

2. Reflect upon and analyze the above 3-year trend data. Briefly discuss overall observations and any areas of concern or noteworthy trends.

The dip in Fall 2005 and beginning recovery by Fall 2006 reflect the lower overall college enrollment in Fall 2005. By Fall 2006, in order to increase enrollment, we offered more diversity in course offerings, locations, and online classes.

The need to cut back on classes for budgetary reasons demands a careful and systematic review of the types of classes, the delivery of classes, and the number of sections. We have implemented this process.

3. Reflecting on the 3-year trend data, describe/discuss discipline planning related to the following:

PLAN – 2007-08	Progress – 2008-09
 a. Curriculum, programs, certificates and degrees (consider changes due to CSU/UC transfer language updates, articulation, workforce and labor market projections, certificate or degree completions, etc.) A new AMS 105 (American West: Images and Identities) online class has been well received, filling every time we have offered it. We are now offering it every semester, and we may increase new course offerings. 	AMS 105 class sections fill, but we are holding at one section per semester.
 b. Class scheduling (consider enrollment trends, growth, course rotation, comprehensiveness, etc.) We continue to evaluate the balance among main campus, satellite, and online classes. 	This rational seems to be working for us. We have decided also to vary full-length classes with 12-week and Fast Tracks.

4. Discuss/identify the resources necessary to successfully implement the planning described:

4. Discuss/identify the resources necessary to successfully implement
PLAN – 2007-08	Progress – 2008-09
a. Equipment/Technology – block grant funds, VTEA, other resources, etc.	We did acquire the digital camera. The department still needs maps, software, and digital maps in each location.
See our remarks under AIS.	Incorporating a scanner, printer, and fax machine as one unit would effectively replace outdated equipment and provide us with much needed space.
b. Budget – budget development process, one-time funds, grants, etc.	We need research funds for core courses, for certificates, transfer courses, and to increase our course offerings.
c. Facilities – schedule maintenance needs, additional classrooms/labs due to growth, remodeling, etc.	We can make do until we move into the MIB building.
We will be in the new MIB building.
d. Faculty position(s) – faculty priority process and projected full-time needs for 1 – 3 years	The need to hire at least one more full-time tenure-track faculty person is critical with the upcoming retirements of the senior faculty.
e. Staff position(s) – changes in instructional or support needs due to program growth, new technology, etc.	The need for a 100% ADA has not changed.
Our present ADA position needs to move from 60% to 100%.

Discuss one discipline goal linked to Palomar's Strategic Plan 2009 and how it will support the success of students.
Student success can be enhanced by "increased student awareness and use of services that support student success" that assure all our students are aware of and appreciate the diverse population of our district.
Our new faculty member has a musical background that we will exploit to assure students will have a greater appreciation of the diversity in our district through workshops and/or a free "recital."
Student Learning Outcome progress: a. Describe a learning outcome at the course or program level and the assessment used to measure student learning of that outcome
Students in AMS 100 are expected to grasp the relationship between individual identity and shared culture through artist reviews and family history research and written assessments.
The artist reviews must reflect the degree of influence that an American artist's work has on American culture in general and specifically for the student. Each student in his or her family history notebooks ends with a narrative that explores the influence of family and culture on their own identity as an American or in some cases as a foreign national.
b. Discuss a learning outcome that is observable yet difficult to measure.
A learning outcome we expect in American Studies is a decrease in bigotry and an increase in understanding the shared human values, shared American values, and the historical and cultural experiences of our district's diverse population.

7. Describe a discipline accomplishment that you want to share with the college community.
We developed a new online course, AMS 105: American West: Images and Identities.
This course has an impetus of interest in American Indian images and identities but as part of the American West. Further, there has been a resurgence of interest in the "American West," old and new, in American Studies and American history. A number of new academic centers have emerged, such as the Bill Lane Center for the Study of the North American West at Stanford University.
3. Are there other resources (including data) that you need to complete your discipline review and planning?
We would like to see longer ranges easily available for data retrieval, say from the 1990s to 2007, to ascertain more far-ranging patterns.
We use the American Studies Association to produce data on curriculum, learning outcomes, and standards relative to AMS.
