Job Description: Caregiver Job Opportunity For Students To Help Kind-Hearted Stroke Patient. Our family is looking for a kind-hearted caregiver who can care for our dad, Peter, a young at heart stroke patient who lives at a rehabilitation center in Carmel Mountain, San Diego. Peter is continuing to try and thrive despite the effects of a brain-stem stroke 10 years ago. The stroke left him fully cognitive, but unable to walk, talk or eat. He communicates using a word board and loves being outgoing, and interacting with people.

- Rate starts at $18p/h+.
- Flexible part-time hours during the daytime.
- Seeking an engaging companion caregiver who can help him with activities, including: reading, communicating with family on FaceTime, playing sudoku, and helping advocate his needs to the facility. His care home staff deals with feeding/medications/lifting and most medical care, so this is more of a support companionship role that would be perfect for a student looking to gain experience working with patients and assisting care needs.
- You must be reliable, punctual, have excellent reading/writing skills, attentive, compassionate and friendly.
- Having reliable transportation is a must.
- We'll write you references for future job applications should that be helpful for nurturing your career in healthcare.
