

The difference between “make and do”

Make

Do

make a date/an appointment	do (the) homework
make a plan	do an exercise
make a decision	do the cleaning, laundry, dishes, washing, etc.
make a telephone call	do the shopping
make a meal (breakfast, lunch, dinner)	do one's best make a mistake	do a favor
make an effort	do the right/wrong thing
make an improvement	do a job
make a promise	do business
make money	What do you do for a living? (asks about a job)
make noise	How do you do? (said when you meet someone for the first time)
make the bed

Prepositions of “time”

In the morning, in the evening, at night	My sisters takes a shower in the evening (at night).
In the summer (winter, etc) / on that/this day	My cousin became a citizen in the summer (on May 5, 2018)
On the weekend / on a specific day	Jojo plays tennis on the weekend / He plays piano on Mondays and Wednesdays.
In a month / year / century	His birthday is in a month / He was born in 2001 / People in the 19 th century did not have cars.
On a day / at a specific time	Tansel has ESL classes on Mondays and Wednesdays. She begins classes at 7:00 p.m.
From time to (or till or until) another time	Mariko class is from 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
In number of hours, days, weeks, etc. For a number of hours, days, weeks, etc.	I will move into my new house in one month. I have been wishing for a new house for five years.
By a time / until a time	The teacher wants us to finish the test by 10:00. I took pronunciation classes until the end of Spring.
During the class, movie, event etc	The student slept during the teacher's lesson.
About / around + time	The class will start about 6:00 p.m.
In the past / future At present	In the past Martina did his homework on time. At present, she is always the best in her class.
In the beginning / end At the beginning / end	In the beginning Martina did not understand English. At the end of the semester, she understood a lot.
Before / after a time	Before she came to the U.S., Latifa spoke no English. After one year, she was able to speak English well.
Before / after an action takes place	Take a shower before you go to school. Help your mother wash dishes after eating dinner.