

Classroom Purpose

After understanding that students do not always enter my classroom knowing they are there to learn, I wanted to find a way to help them acquire that mindset. I created a short PowerPoint presentation to show them at the beginning of the semester. While I don't expect it to be successful for every student, I hope it will get enough students to recognize our shared goal and to help reduce problem behaviors.