Heather Barclay is the Director of the Palomar Comet Concert Band. She has been on faculty at Palomar College since 2006, teaching Applied Percussion and assumed the directorship of the Concert Band in 2020. She is also a frequent performer, who received her Master of Fine Arts in Music Performance and Education from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

Professor Barclay has performed in many ensembles, including the San Diego Symphony, Orchestra Nova, San Diego Chamber Orchestra, Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, Milwaukee Civic Orchestra, International Symphony Orchestra of Tijuana, Tijuana Opera Orchestra, and the San Francisco Ballet. In addition, she was the principal percussionist with the International Chamber Players, and has performed solo recitals in California, Arizona and Wisconsin, as well as throughout Europe and Mexico.

In addition to performing professionally, Ms. Barclay has coached and conducted several award-winning high school percussion ensembles and marching band drum lines. She coaches percussion at numerous schools in the Poway Unified School District, and maintains a very active percussion studio in Poway, CA.

Since 2014 Professor Barclay has served as the conductor of the Palomar/YPO Percussion Ensemble, which was recently awarded 3rd Prize in the Ernst Bacon Memorial Award for the Esteemed American Prize competition.
