

Palomar College Police Academy Cost and Fees

The costs and fees associated with the Palomar College Police Academy are distributed according to the module of instruction. The information available on this page is for reference only. Due to changes in the availability of service(s), product(s), and other nonspecific & expendable items, the Palomar College Police Academy cannot guarantee the accuracy of the cost data listed here. The Palomar College Police Academy is not responsible for changes to published, unpublished, and/or distributed materials associated with academy activities. All tuition prices are based on $46.00 per unit for in-state residents. Tuition prices are higher for out-of-state residents. Current active duty military and non-active or retired U.S. armed forces veterans should contact the Palomar College Veterans Services Office for specific information on the GI Bill, tuition assistance, and other veteran support programs.

*Note: All fees are approximate and are subject to change. Fees are due before the start of each module. Some uniform and equipment expenses are divided between different modules of training. Further details and specific dates will be provided to recruits accepted into the Police Academy program.
