

ANTHROPOLOGY DAYS

WEDNESDAY, NOV 1ST

9:20- 3:00 PM In Person Location: MD-124

Join Us on Zoom: <https://palomar-edu.zoom.us/j/88297680720>

EVENT SPEAKERS

- 9:20-9:30 Introduction to Anthropology Days
- 9:30-9:50 Lindsay Hunter, M.A., Community Engagement and Advancement Director, UC San Diego/Salk Center for Academic Research and Training in Anthropogeny (CARTA) - "Beneath the Surface: A Perspective from Rising Star Cave, South Africa"
- 10:00-10:20 Henry Lesperance, Jr., Instructor Ethnic Studies, Palomar College - "Music and the Natural Landscape"
- 10:30-10:50 Marlo Willows, Associate Professor Anthropology, Palomar College - Bioarchaeology: Rescuing Skeletons and Telling Their Story
- 11:00-11:20 Alex Gómez, Associate Professor Ethnic Studies, Palomar College - "Unveiling the Connection Between the Mesoamerican Underworld and the Day of the Dead"
- 11:30-11:50 Linda Locklear, Emeritus Professor American Indian Studies, Palomar College and Elizabeth "Leesa" Rios, Cahuilla Band of Indians- "Revitalization of Languages: Tribal Languages Taught at Palomar College"
- 11:50-12:20 BREAK
- 12:30-12:50 Sherehe Hollins, Assistant Professor Africana Studies, Ethnic Studies, Palomar College "Africa's Legacy in Mexico"
- 1:00-1:20 Jim Eighmey, Associate Professor Anthropology, Palomar College - "Travels in Mongolia"
- 1:30-1:50 Albert Gonzalez, Associate Professor Anthropology, California State University - East Bay. - "Wake and Bake: Rediscovering Indigenous and Latinx Baking Science with Experimental Archaeology"
- 2:00-3:00 Palomar College Student Presentations

If you need accommodations please email mwillows@palomar.edu