PALOMAR COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Palomar College has a history rich in tradition and educational achievements. On January 15, 1946, registered voters in the Vista Unified School District, the Fallbrook Union School District, and the Escondido Union High School District voted 714 to 417 in favor of establishing a “junior college” in the North San Diego County area. Under state law, the San Diego County Superintendent of Schools appointed five persons as members of the first Governing Board for the new college. The Governing Board hired the first college president in 1946, Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, supported by eleven employees. Located on the Vista High School campus, Palomar College opened its classroom doors on September 23, 1946, with exactly 100 students.

Now in its 78th year of serving the education and training needs of northern most part of San Diego County, the Palomar Community College District features a 200-acre main campus located in San Marcos; Education Centers in Escondido, Rancho Bernardo, and Fallbrook; education sites in Ramona and at Camp Pendleton, and a Public Safety Training Center.

Palomar College has five academic divisions: Arts, Media, and Business Administration; Career, Technical, and Extended Education; Languages and Literature; Mathematics, Sciences, and Engineering; and Social and Behavioral Sciences. The college offers more than 250 credit degree and certificate programs and noncredit courses. At Palomar, students have the opportunity to participate in a vibrant college life that includes free art and cinema series, academic and social campus organizations, competitive intercollegiate sports teams for men and women, and dozens of music, theatre, and dance performances.

Over 4,500 degrees and certificates will be distributed this academic year. Many of our graduates will work in healthcare, public safety, business, art and design, and education, all to serve the future generations of San Diego County residents and contribute to the region's economy.

OUR VISION:

Transforming lives for a better future

OUR MISSION:

Palomar College respects each of our students' experiences and supports them to achieve academic success. As a community college, we encourage our students to embrace the best version of themselves and prepare them to engage with our local and global communities.

OUR VALUES:

In creating the learning and cultural experience that fulfill our mission, we are committed to serving our community, including historically and currently marginalized and racially minoritized populations. In doing so, we are guided by the core values of:

★ ACCESS

We make education possible for everyone.

★ DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

We recognize and respect diversity, seek to foster a culture of inclusion and belonging, and strive to address inequities.

★ ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

We provide quality programs and robust course offerings to support students who are pursuing transfer-readiness, general education, career and technical training, aesthetic and cultural enrichment, and lifelong education.

★ STUDENT FOCUSED

We offer a caring and supportive environment that addresses the holistic and distinct needs of our students.

★ COMMUNITY

We are an integral part of our region and strive to foster meaningful relationships within our college and local communities.

THE MEANING OF ACADEMIC DRESS

Academic dress originated in the oldest universities and colleges. In 14th century England, for instance, the statutes of most colleges and universities forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Floor length gowns were also worn for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars.

There are four basic kinds of degrees awarded by colleges and universities: the Associate's, the Bachelor's, the Master's, and the Doctor's. The Associate's degree, awarded by many colleges, signifies completion of two years of specific work.

THE GOWNS: Most academic gowns are black. The cut of the robe and sleeves, as well as the trimmings, indicate various academic degrees. No trimmings are permitted on the gowns for the Associate's, Bachelor's, or Master's degrees. However, the Doctor's gown has a front facing of black velvet and three bars of the same black velvet across the sleeves.

THE HOODS: Hoods fasten around the neck, drape over the shoulder, and fall down the back. On the hood, the color of the silk lining indicates the school that conferred the degree. No hoods are worn by Associate or Bachelor degree holders, only by Master's and Doctor's. On the Doctor's hoods there is a five-inch-wide edging of velvet, the color of which indicates the field of study and of academic preparation.

THE MORTARBOARD: There is no general rule for the position of the tassel on a mortarboard. However, numerous institutions have adopted the practice, during commencement exercises, of requiring candidates for degrees to wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and to shift them to the left side at the moment the degrees are awarded. This custom replaces individual hooding which was practiced many years ago.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

WILLIAM J. CARRASCO, PH.D.

Dr. William Carrasco has been teaching French and Spanish at Palomar College since 2019. His love of languages grew out of his desire to learn Spanish so he could speak it with his grandfather. It eventually led to his participation in five study abroad programs in Mexico, Spain and France.

He earned a Bachelor of Arts in French and a Master of Arts in Spanish at Arizona State University. From there he moved to the University of Toulouse in France where he earned a Ph.D. in Language Sciences with a focus on comparative oral literature. Dr. Carrasco's current research is in Neo-Saussurean Linguistics with a focus on the transmission of cultural knowledge.

Ever since he taught his first college course in 1991, Professor Carrasco knew that he wanted to work in education in some capacity or another. Since then, he has taught all grade-levels from kindergarten through graduate school. He has taught courses on linguistics, French, Spanish, the history of English, world literature, folklore and poetry. He has also served as the coordinator of multiple scholarship programs and science internships.

Above all, Professor Carrasco considers himself to be an artist. Before practicing the art of teaching, he was an award-winning production technician for PBS television. He is also a prolific songwriter and poet and is currently working on a fantasy novel about language.

Dr. Carrasco really loves working with students and is grateful to the Palomar College Community for the opportunity to share his knowledge in the classroom.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

*Approved by Native American Advisory group on May 24, 2021.
Adopted by the Palomar Community College District Governing Board on June 1, 2021.*

The resilient and continued presence of the Payómkawichum/Luiseño, the Kuméyaay /Ipai/Diegueño, the Kuupangaxwicheam/Cupeño, and the Ívillyuatem/Cahuilla Nations compels Palomar College to take sustainable, respectful action to engage the land and its First People with justice and compassion as fellow human beings. Palomar College acknowledges it benefits from the unceded ancestral lands of these sovereign Nations and commits to promoting indigenous knowledge systems and practices in its educational mission. Palomar College pledges to foster a successful learning environment that supports Indigenous students and engages the needs and concerns of the Nations who continue to occupy this land.
