COMMENCEMENT

Friday, May 22, 5:00 p.m.

San Marcos, California

Palomar College has a history rich in tradition and educational achievements. On January 15, 1946, registered voters in the Vista Unified School District, the Fallbrook Union School District, and the Escondido Union High School District voted 714 to 417 in favor of establishing a “junior college” in the North San Diego County area. Under state law, the San Diego County Superintendent of Schools appointed five persons as members of the first Governing Board for the new college. The Governing Board hired the first college president in 1946, Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, supported by eleven employees. Located on the Vista High School campus, Palomar College opened its classroom doors on September 23, 1946, with exactly 100 students.

Now in its 79th year of serving the education and training needs of the northern most part of San Diego County, the Palomar Community College District features a 200-acre campus located in San Marcos; Education Centers in Escondido, Rancho Bernardo, and Fallbrook; education sites in Ramona and at Camp Pendleton; and a Public Safety Training Center.

Palomar College has five academic divisions: Arts, Media, and Business Administration; Career, Technical, and Extended Education; Languages and Literature; Mathematics, Science, and Engineering; and Social and Behavioral Sciences. The college offers more than 250 credit degree and certificate programs and noncredit courses. At Palomar, students have the opportunity to participate in a vibrant college life that includes free art and cinema series, academic and social campus organizations, competitive intercollegiate sports teams for men and women, and dozens of music, theatre, and dance performances.

This academic year, 4,735 degrees and certificates will be conferred. Many of our graduates will work in the healthcare, public safety, business, art and design, and education industries within our region. These graduates will continue to be San Diego County residents focused on serving our local community and contributing to our regional economy for generations.

OUR VISION:

Transforming lives for a better future.

OUR MISSION:

Palomar College respects each of our students’ experiences and supports them to achieve academic success. As a community college, we encourage our students to embrace the best version of themselves and prepare them to engage with our local and global communities.

OUR VALUES:

In creating the learning and cultural experience that fulfill our mission, we are committed to serving our community, including historically and currently marginalized and racially minoritized populations. In doing so, we are guided by the core values of:

★ ACCESS

We make education possible for everyone.

★ DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

We recognize and respect diversity, seek to foster a culture of inclusion and belonging, and strive to address inequities.

★ ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

We provide quality programs and robust course offerings to support students who are pursuing transfer-readiness, general education, career and technical training, aesthetic and cultural enrichment, and lifelong education.

★ STUDENT FOCUSED

We offer a caring and supportive environment that addresses the holistic and distinct needs of our students.

★ COMMUNITY

We are an integral part of our region and strive to foster meaningful relationships within our college and local communities.

THE MEANING OF ACADEMIC DRESS

Academic dress originated in the oldest universities and colleges. In 14th century England, for instance, the statutes of most colleges and universities forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Floor length gowns were also worn for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars.

There are four basic kinds of degrees awarded by colleges and universities: the Associate's, the Bachelor's, the Master's, and the Doctor's. The Associate's degree, awarded by many colleges, signifies completion of two years of specific work.

THE GOWNS: Most academic gowns are black. The cut of the robe and sleeves, as well as the trimmings, indicate various academic degrees. No trimmings are permitted on the gowns for the Associate's, Bachelor's, or Master's degrees. However, the Doctor's gown has a front facing of black velvet and three bars of the same black velvet across the sleeves.

THE HOODS: Hoods fasten around the neck, drape over the shoulder, and fall down the back. On the hood, the color of the silk lining indicates the school that conferred the degree. No hoods are worn by Associate or Bachelor degree holders, only by Master's and Doctor's. On the Doctor's hoods there is a five-inch-wide edging of velvet, the color of which indicates the field of study and of academic preparation.

THE MORTARBOARD: There is no general rule for the position of the tassel on a mortarboard. However, numerous institutions have adopted the practice, during commencement exercises, of requiring candidates for degrees to wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and to shift them to the left side at the moment the degrees are awarded. This custom replaces individual hooding which was practiced many years ago.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

JEFFREY EPSTEIN, PH.D.

Dr. Jeff Epstein is an Associate Professor of Philosophy. He came to Palomar in 2015, but his love for Philosophy began a long time ago, in another century actually, as an undergraduate at U.C. Santa Cruz. After graduating in 1997, he moved to San Francisco and entered the "real world" where he worked for two years at a legal newspaper as an editorial assistant followed by three years at U.C. San Francisco where he handled the accounting for cancer and AIDS research.

A little let down by what the "real world" offered, he was lucky to marry his college sweetheart, and together they spent three years in Honduras as Peace Corps volunteers. This was a transformative experience. It was shocking to move from the comforts of San Francisco to a rural farming community without electricity, but more important was to become an outsider, a stranger, a foreigner, a guest in a place where he so clearly did not fit in. This welcome discomfort fueled his commitment to learning Spanish, love of Latin American culture, and reflection on the challenges for political justice in a community scarred by poverty and migration.

After finishing his Peace Corps service in 2006, he decided to return to school. He earned his Master of Arts in Philosophy and Public Policy from American University in Washington, D.C. He went on to earn his Ph.D. from Stony Brook University in New York where he specialized in Political Philosophy, Ethics, and earned a graduate certificate in Women's and Gender Studies. His dissertation on democracy, immigration, and foreignness was published as a book, Democracy and Its Others, in 2016.

All of this leads to Palomar, where he loves teaching and working with students to explore how philosophy helps us to better understand our own experiences and the experience of others. He values the time spent with his students in the classroom and is honored to work with his passionate and skilled colleagues across the college.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

*Approved by Native American Advisory group on May 24, 2021.
Adopted by the Palomar Community College District Governing Board on June 1, 2021.*

The resilient and continued presence of the Payómkawichum/Luiseño, the Kuméyaay /Ipai/Diegueño, the Kuupangaxwicheh/Cupeño, and the Ívillyuatem/Cahuilla Nations compels Palomar College to take sustainable, respectful action to engage the land and its First People with justice and compassion as fellow human beings. Palomar College acknowledges it benefits from the unceded ancestral lands of these sovereign Nations and commits to promoting indigenous knowledge systems and practices in its educational mission. Palomar College pledges to foster a successful learning environment that supports Indigenous students and engages the needs and concerns of the Nations who continue to occupy this land.
