Assessment results are documented in TracDat and used to inform program review, program assessment, and course and program improvement.

Course/discipline faculty discuss course assessment results and select at least one action item to improve student learning.

Course instructor analyzes assessment results; notes trends, challenges, etc. for discussion with colleagues; and shares results with students using the Canvas learning mastery feature.

Report of assessment results generated for all Canvas courses assessing the same outcome.

Course instructor uses selected student work to assess outcome. Assessment is completed in Canvas while instructor grades student work.
